The Spokesperson of the Ministry of Commerce responded to a reporter's question on the listing of 11 US companies on the unreliable entities list

Q: This time, China once again imposed sanctions on 11 Taiwan-related arms sales companies using the "unreliable Entity list". What is China's consideration?

A: In recent years, 11 companies including Skydio Inc. and BRINC Drones, Inc. have carried out so-called military and technological cooperation with Taiwan despite China's strong opposition, which seriously undermines China's national sovereignty, security and development interests. China will investigate their legal responsibilities under the Foreign Trade Law of the People's Republic of China, the National Security Law of the People's Republic of China, the Anti-Foreign Sanctions Law of the People's Republic of China and other laws in accordance with Article 2 of the Unreliable Entity List Regulations.

China has always handled the issue of the Unreliable Entity List with caution, and only targeted a very small number of foreign entities that endanger China's national security in accordance with the law. Honest and law-abiding foreign entities have nothing to worry about. The Chinese government, as always, welcomes companies from all over the world to invest and start businesses in China, and is committed to providing a stable, fair and predictable business environment for law-abiding foreign companies to operate in China.
